By Susan Copeland, Gail McMillan : Making Theses and Dissertations Available Electronically (Chandos Information Professional Series)

Making Theses and Dissertations Available Electronically (Chandos Information Professional Series):

This book provides librarians with a practical guide for making theses and dissertations available in electronic formats and provides academic staff and students with an overview of recent developments in this area. It covers specific issues like the reasons to make this form of research output accessible on the Web, how to persuade managers of its importance, practical advice for including Electronic Theses and Dissertations (ETDs) in institutional repositories, and the importance of the Author. Susan Copeland is Senior Information Adviser at The Robert Gordon University in Aberdeen. She was the project director for the JISC funded Electronic Theses project which was undertaken from 2002 to 2005 as part of the JISC FAIR programme.
